

ELTEMATE Legal Tech: MOVE Sectors

What's happening

- The mobility and transportation sector is experiencing a rapid technological transformation and an explosion of software and data
- Companies need to modernize and digitize their business or face the risk of disappearing from the market
- Legal departments face pressure from management to embrace technology and drive efficiency

Why

- Advancements in AI can significantly boost efficiency in legal matters, but companies must also manage related issues such as data privacy, poor data quality, and hallucinations
- A strong partnership with an experienced technology provider will help companies address these issues

Why it matters

- Legal tech solutions help automate repetitive tasks
- We leverage generative AI and use reliable high-quality Hogan Lovells data and legal training to ensure robust results

How we can help

- We combine a deep understanding of our clients' legal needs with the speed and innovation of a legal tech start-up
- Our Regulatory Pilot simplifies and automates the process of managing regulatory updates by using AI
- Our legal generative AI solution CRAIG is a chatbot capable of drafting legal documents, summarizing large sets of facts, extracting and structuring information into legal documents, creating fact chronologies and much more
